NEWSBOYS TO SEE SALVATION NELL

Will Be the Guests of The Herald at El Paso Theater Friday.

Herald newsboys will enjoy a treat Friday night at the performance of "Salvation Nell" at the El Paso theater as the guests of this paper. The management of The Herald has made arrangements to have every one of its boys as its guests Friday evening. They will be assembled in the afternoon and given tickets and at night they will march in a body to the theater to attend the performance.

They will see "Nell," the street wail, redeemed through the work of the Salvation Army, their war, and little "Jim" whose father is a burglar, but whose mama is a good woman and is bringing little Jim up to say his prayers every night. The boys will recognize the real boy in the little lad and perhaps their mouths will water when he begs for an all-day sucker, and gets it in return for telling a benighted tale. They will see the "newy" selling his extras; they will see the tall, funny man with the mustache that will make them laugh, even if his antics don't; they will see and hear the Salvation Army. Just like it works on the streets every night, with the drum and the cornet and the hymn singers. It is a true to life picture of a big city that they will see, and will be an educational lesson to them; it will show them the pitfalls of a city and how to avoid them; they will learn what happens to the man who is dishonest and drinks liquor, and what happiness comes to those who are good.

There will be lots of laughs and many an opportunity for the little fellows to slip out their handkerchiefs—those that have them—and sneak away a tear without the other fellow seeing it. They will all have a real good time. The Herald hopes. The boys have enjoyed the play and The Herald wants the little ones to enjoy it.

AT THE AIRDOME

Abbott may not be "the king of mystery" in handcuff manipulation, as the Airdome programs call him, but he is away up the list anyhow. Last night he got out of every pair of handcuffs that a committee could lock upon him and finally got out of three pairs locked on his wrists, a pair of shackles locked upon his feet and with another pair of handcuffs locking his feet and hands together. He then put one pair upon the hands of a member of the committee and gave him the key and the committee member stayed locked. Abbott also got out of a straight jacket that two big husky men laced about him. Then he gave a burlesque "spiritualistic" performance that puzzled the audience as much as it mystified them. He did the same thing that Anna Eva Fay did at the old Myer opera house nine years ago and called spiritism—had himself tied hands and feet to a chair in a cabinet and then had a man from the audience tied in the same manner and the curtains drawn. There was a noise like the flapping of a battle in the Shakespearean play and when the curtain was pulled aside both men were still tied and the committee member had a string of bells hanging about his neck, a bag tied over his head and a tin bucket turned upside down on top of that, also his coat turned wrong side out.

Abbott is the feature of the performance, but the musical turn by the De Fays is especially good. They play on many peculiar and numerous familiar instruments and devices and close with a boxing match in which they produce a lively tune with bells on their arms and ankles, which they rattle as they box.

DeVan does a burnt cork stunt that is neither poor nor noisy, and, on the whole, Nellie Moore sings some songs ordinarily and gives some imitations that are recognized because she tells what they are before she gives them.

The admission prices at the Airdome are 10 and 20—not 50 and 100 as printed yesterday, which was a typographical error.

COUNTRY FAIR TONIGHT

One of the most pleasing prospects offered in a long time in the way of a pleasant pastime is that offered by the Knights of Columbus in their Country Fair, which begins this evening and continues the 16th, 17th and 18th. The old Calhoun or E. R. Welch building, on Stanton street, has been selected as the site of the fair. The possibilities of enjoyment to be derived from an occasion of this kind are practically unlimited. It is a safe assertion that the Knights of Columbus have not overlooked anything in their preparations. The fair will be on the hands to furnish music, and dancing each evening will be one of the many pleasurable items on the program. "El Paso at Night" and "Night Raffles" are the star features for the opening this evening. The annual entertainments of the Knights of Columbus in the past have always more than met the expectations of the public and the present one will not prove an exception. Admission to the Country Fair is free.

CRYSTAL FEATURE BILL

The Crystal today has an all-feature bill in which Frank Coffey's flights in his marvelous hydro-aeroplane are of the great interest. He flies over the site of Liberty, above the New York skyscrapers, including the Singer building, under the Brooklyn bridge and alights in the East river, where he glides along as if in a boat. The whole bill is new.

EL PASO THEATER

Myrtle Vase, supported by the World's Fair Stock company, is presenting "Salvation Nell" at the El Paso theater, and the management says "every citizen should see this great production, absolutely real in every detail, scenery, production, and full cast."

This show was without doubt one of the largest successes of recent years, and Miss Vase displays her superior ability as an emotional actress. Popular prices prevail. Tickets are on sale at Ryan's. Next week "Paid in Full."

OUR CITIZEN'S DEMAND

In the first place, it is from a citizen of El Paso and can be thoroughly relied upon. In the second place, it indisputably proves that Dean's Kidney Pills do their work thoroughly and not temporarily. Read this carefully.

W. A. Wells, San Antonio St., El Paso, Texas, says: "I used several boxes of Dean's Kidney Pills for my kidney trouble and found them excellent. Some time ago I began to suffer from weak back and kidney trouble. Hearing Dean's Kidney Pills highly recommended, I got a box and used them as directed. After using that box and one more I was entirely cured. Since then I have had no occasion to use a kidney medicine as the cure has been permanent. It gives me great pleasure to recommend Dean's Kidney Pills." For sale by all dealers. Price fifty cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. ## Just Say Hires

Everybody knows Hires is good. It is made that way. From every good and pure source of Nature come the saps and flavors that make this great American drink.

Sarsaparilla, sassafras, hops, wintergreen, birch—and then some—every one good. More than just good to the taste. It's the most healthful of drinks—tones the blood and aids digestion. But not a trace of drugs.

Hires just won't disagree with you. But it will cool you off like a breeze after a cooling storm. Needless to say "rootbeer." Just say "Hires."

Sparkling and snappy from the fountain—So. At your home, carbonated, in bottles.
